

the BUTCHER THE baker the best COFFEE MAKER...

This restaurant is uber-cool and the scene is as important as the food. Situated next to a live band room, it upholds the saying, 'Everything old is new again'. Discarded laminated tables and chairs, chandeliers and vinyl tablecloths are given a second life here. The food is Thai and hip. The betel-leaf sale: with snapper, ginger, chilli and lime was fresh, hot and mouth-watering. The sweet-potato and casher dumplings, and the various curries, were small yet flavoursome. An extensive wine and beer list accompanies the menu and comes in handy whilst downing the salty, sweet, spicy dishes.
